

14 successful Canadian startups with job openings this May

May is set to be a busy month for Toronto's tech community as Collision, one of the world's biggest tech conferences, comes to the city for the first time. Not only will the conference bring in a crowd of over 25,000 people, but it also presents ample networking opportunities for job-seekers and employers alike.

To connect some of Toronto's top hiring startups with the community, MaRS will be hosting a Talent Marketplace on May 24. Visitors will learn about the latest science and tech innovations, explore career and partnership opportunities with teams and founders, and learn what it's like to work for a fast-growing, impact-driven company. Register for the Talent Marketplace to meet with these hiring companies exhibiting at the event:
